EAC Specialized Service Facility

List of Schedules

The EAC Specialized Services Facility list of schedules is a mechanism for charging contracted projects and external collaborators for access to and use of specialized service facilities at the Emerging Analytics Center (EAC) at UA Little Rock. The intent of the list of schedules is to recover costs associated with such usage to enable collaborative research, working sessions, and group meetings.

The difference between this charge and Facilities and Administration (F&A) fees, collected by indirect costs, is such that the list of schedules for the EAC Specialized Service Facility provides specific chargeable items and services. F&A fees, collected by indirect costs, enables UA Little Rock to ensure general maintenance and operations of buildings, services, and utilities. The EAC Specialized Service Facility enables collaborative access as well as use of specialized hardware and software resources within the EAC to facilitate research opportunities and project development.

The EAC Specialized Services Facilities list of schedules adheres to the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) § 200.468 Specialized service facilities[1]. CFR is the official legal print publication containing the codification of the general and permanent rules published in the Federal Register by the departments and agencies of the Federal Government.
